2009 was an exciting year for me because I met the biggest challenge of my career: performing Beethoven's 32 Sonatas for piano in Germany and Italy.

I use the word "challenge" because the project was extremely demanding as well as thrilling. It allowed me to deepen my understanding of the music of one of the greatest composers in the history of music.

It was a musical journey through which I tried to understand how Beethoven's art penetrated the heart of his passions, enthusiasms, the ideals of his time, and how his music took part in the shaping of ideas, spiritual struggle and political evolution of his era.

Beethoven is the heart which houses love for others and searches for the ideals of freedom and human dignity.

His song becomes the song for all of humanity. It is a song that makes his music eternal.

After experiencing the success of the first two cycles and gaining even more respect and love for this composer, I will begin 3 more cycles of the 32 sonatas in Rome and Vienna.

You will find all details below.

If you wish to read the articles that accompanied the concerts in Germany and Italy you can find them at:

Hoping to continue to share the universal message of music in this new year, I wish you all the best.

Cristiana

UPCOMING PERFORMANCES IN 2010 OF THE COMPLETE SONATAS FOR PIANO BY BEETHOVEN IN ITALY AND AUSTRIA

It is with great joy that I am getting ready to present the complete sonatas for piano by Beethoven in Rome and Vienna.

These 3 cycles will include not only the piano performances.

I have noticed that if I explain the creative ideas behind the pieces to the audience, they can follow the music more easily.

Thus, “my” Beethoven will also be presented in an original way. Every concert will be preceded by an explanation of the various aspects of the philosophy and music of the great maestro from Bonn.

This will make the cycle more dynamic and understandable. It will be an incentive for all music lovers and young people particularly to deepen their knowledge of one of the greatest composers in the history of music.

The 32 sonatas will not be performed chronologically but grouped by theme.

Here are the themes, sonatas and dates.
